*To Meharry Hall lead I,—
Daily, then, I should be trod;
Wisdom only thus begins,
In the fear of God the Lord.*

*"Be he owl or man, he's a wise old bird," —
 I once at the fountain these words o'erheard, —
 "If he chase not the rainbow's gold with the mob,
 But steadfastly sticks to an honest job."*

The University Library

*"Words, words, words." Shall thus it be,
That words alone I read at Wisdom's knee,
Or shall I here, through her instruction, find
In open books the world's embalméd mind?*

*O Euclid, Lavoisier, Galileo,
If to my wish you give heed,
And let me but walk in your footsteps,
I shall be wise indeed.*

*On the stage of life one should early learn,
And not wait till the play is done,
That God in His love send us shadows,
"To temper the glare of the sun".*

Garrulous Age or thoughtless Youth,
(It makes no difference which way it tends)
Is unchangeably ever the path of Truth.*

A Tribute from Prexy

The dedication of the Student Annual of DePauw University to the surviving members of the Clem Studebaker family—Mrs. Anne Studebaker Carlisle, Colonel George Milburn Studebaker, and Mr. Clement Studebaker, Jr.,—is a well deserved tribute. For fifty years the Studebaker family have been generous benefactors and loyal friends of DePauw University. The Clem Studebaker Memorial Building—one of the finest College Administration buildings in the Middle West—bears enduring witness that “the righteous are held in everlasting remembrance.”

The Faculty and students of the University record with profound gratitude their appreciation of this noble benefaction and pledge the donors to use this memorial as a sacred trust. This consecration of wealth for the promotion of Christian education finds a worthy response in more than a thousand young men and women on the DePauw campus dedicating their lives to the larger service of humanity.

Editor's Note—President George Richmond Grose received his A.B. and A.M. degrees from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1894 and 1896 respectively. The degree of S.T.B. was conferred on him by Boston University in the same year that he received the Master's degree. Ten years later Ohio Wesleyan again honored him, this time with the Doctor of Divinity. He then came to DePauw to take the office of President of the University in 1913. Three years later Ohio Wesleyan conferred the Doctor of Laws.

GROUND BREAKING CEREMONIES FOR THE BLACKSTOCK ATHLETIC FIELD

A New Athletic Field

No announcement of greater importance to the future of DePauw has been made during the past year than the assurance of a new athletic field. McKeen field has been the scene of many hard-fought contests but it is now in very bad condition and inadequate for the needs of DePauw.

On March 19, 1921, appropriate ground breaking ceremonies were conducted by the University at which many alumni and friends were present as well as the entire student body. In recognition of the generous gift of $25,000 by Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Blackstock for the promotion of this project the new field will be called Blackstock Athletic Field. Mr. Blackstock graduated from DePauw in the class of '86 and is now a resident of Springfield, Illinois and a trustee of the University.

MR. IRA B. BLACKSTOCK

According to present plans the new field will be ready for use next fall and will consist when completed of a sodded gridiron, a practice gridiron, a baseball diamond separate from the gridiron, a one-quarter mile track, a 220 yard straightaway and tennis courts. It is planned to eventually build concrete bleachers. The old athletic field will be used for intra-mural athletics.

The Edward Rector Scholarship Foundation

The Edward Rector Scholarship Foundation is now finishing the second year of its existence and is meeting the expectations of its founder and those who have the administration of its affairs.

Founded to encourage scholarship in the high schools of this state by making it possible for any ambitious and studious young man to secure a college education, its influence has broadened and extended to the college campus itself where it furnishes a constant incentive for better work.

In addition to the forty-eight scholarships granted last year, one hundred and six were granted this year, one hundred are to be granted next year and the year after, and so on; each year one hundred new scholars, keeping on the campus constantly approximately four hundred.

The method of selection is that the scholarship is awarded to any young man graduated from the commissioned high schools of the state who takes first or second honors of his class.

In case no such honor student offers himself, the Committee on Appointment will give consideration to the case of any young man who ranks in the high ten per cent of his class, and will award him a scholarship if, in its judgment, he ranks high enough to justify the award.

In order to encourage scholarship in the University and to give anyone a chance to become a Rector Scholar in spite of previous work, ten scholarships will be granted in addition to those given at the beginning of the Freshman year to the ten young men who make the highest number of points in the regular work of the Freshman year. Also, one scholarship will be awarded each year to that student in the Freshman, Sophomore, or Junior class, man or woman, who makes the highest grades in his class.

The Rector Scholars now in school are: Maurice D. Adams, Allen D. Albert, Dale Allen, Oscar M. Alton, Henry J. Arnold, Clarence F. Baker, Thomas C. Barnes, Vincent L. Barker, George D. Bateman, Oliver W. Baxter, James Beane, Abe Beck, Clark Beiriger, Robert B. Beisel, Joseph E. Bell, Gerald E. Bentley, George W. Biggerstaff, Mark W. Bills, William J. Boatright, Ralph H. HENRY HITT CRANE
Pastor of Center M. E. Church, Malden, Mass.

February 3 to 10 was one of the most eventful weeks of its kind in the recent history of DePauw. Each evening students and faculty had the pleasure and privilege of listening and responding to the stirring sermons of Mr. Crane. It was a busy week for Mr. Crane. He spoke each morning at chapel, held personal interviews during the day and evenings after the services, and spoke at the halls and houses of residence. Only the fact that there are but twenty-four hours in a day kept him from meeting other insistent demands upon his time. Meharry Hall was crowded to capacity at each public service. Never in the history of DePauw, perhaps, did students attend religious services more regularly and unanimously.

This unusual response was due to several things, both in Mr. Crane's messages and personality. One thing that specially impressed both students and faculty was the fact that Mr. Crane delivered and knew how to deliver ideal college messages. His sane and wholesome interpretation of the Christian religion and Christian experience appealed to all his hearers from the very start. Many of his statements have struck deep into the DePauw mind. The following is a fair example: Christianity means to be good, but to be good for something. Don't be so good that you are good for nothing. Another thing that DePauw students enjoyed in Mr. Crane was the fact that his whole life and energy are unreservedly devoted to his calling, the Christian ministry. To use his own expression, all saw that he was in love with his job.

Mr. Crane won a permanent place in the affections of all DePauw people who heard him. All are eager for his return for another visit. For Mr. Crane DePauw's latch-string is always hanging out.

ATHLETICS

INTERIOR OF GYMNASIUM

Varsity Athletics

DePauw's athletics have been marked in two distinct ways during the seasons of 1920-21. They have been distinct in that all four major sports have been represented by teams that have set standards of their own. The track team of 1920 started by winning six out of seven dual meets and getting third place in the state meet. The baseball team for the most part played good ball. The fall brought forth the best football team that has represented DePauw in years and the basketball team, though handicapped nearly the whole season by sickness or in some other way, came through with an enviable record and gives great promise of the future.

Varsity athletics have been distinct in the second place because of the innovation of three new lines of sports. Through the splendid work of Coach Joseph, DePauw has been represented at the state A. A. U. meets in swimming and wrestling and, even though no championships were won, a showing was made which promises well for the future along those lines. Then, too, there has been a two hour class in boxing throughout the year.

The resignation of Mr. Buss and the ensuing contract of Mr. Fred M. Walker, though Mr. Buss's work has been highly satisfactory, prophesies an even greater year in athletics for the fall of '21 and the spring of '22. The recent formation of the Alumni Athletic Council of some hundred former DePauw men has been of the utmost importance and with the assurance of a new athletic field by next fall the future high rank of DePauw's athletics is guaranteed.

Athletic Director

COACH EDBERT C. BUSS

Coach Buss came to DePauw in the fall of 1916 and his work since that time cannot be overestimated. He has laid a foundation for the future of athletics which will stand the test of time. His work has been thorough and marked by faithfulness. Since his coming basketball has especially come into prominence and a "Buss team" is feared throughout the middle west. In all the other lines of athletics this same marked advance has been noticeable. In the five years preceding Coach's coming DePauw teams lost more often than they won but since 1916 Tiger teams have been fighting their way to an increasingly large number of victories.

The results of Buss's work have been fighting, hard-hitting yet, above all, sportsmanlike teams which reflect his own personality as a man of high calibre. He has taught his men not only the fine points of the sport but also the value of living up to the rules of the game of life. He has always taught clean sport and has prohibited his men from playing anything other than the most sportsmanlike of games.

Coach's work as an organizer is more strongly expressed by actual results than any words could possibly do. Coming at a time when athletics was lacking in any co-ordination, when the faculty was at almost total variance with the athletic endeavors, when the student body itself did not whole-heartedly support the teams, he has since built up a department of athletics and physical education which speaks well for DePauw and one of which her followers can justly be proud. His last year has been especially marked by the organization of an Athletic Council of nearly a hundred supporters who have made the future success of DePauw athletics a surety. It has been also due to his unceasing efforts that DePauw teams are assured a new athletic field for next year.

Mr. Buss as a man has been one who has lived up to the fine standards of the DePauw faculty and he has ever shown himself a gentleman on the field, in his office and in the home. He has been a decided help to the campus and those whom he leaves wish him the greatest of success wherever he may go.

COACH BUCHHEIT

COACH BUCHHEIT
Track

"Buch" came to DePauw from Hillsdale College in the fall of '18. He had charge of the gymnasium work during the year '18-'19, subsequently giving up that work to "Jo" in the spring of '20. He has also had charge of the intra-mural sports during his time at DePauw. His greatest success has been with the track team of which he has had complete supervision. No three years of track have turned out as satisfactorily as have the years under "Buch". His teams are feared wherever they go and the Old Gold have rightly been proud of these teams. He is an all-round athlete himself and has helped coach in all four lines of sports. The best wishes of DePauw follow him as he leaves the school this June.

COACH JOSEPH

Coach Joseph came to DePauw last spring from the Terre Haute "Y" and has already proven himself a man of true worth. He has put the men's department of physical education on a high plane and has set up a much higher standard for that department even though he has been here but a little over a year. The thoroughness with which he has rejuvenated this department is only a sample of whatever he undertakes to do. He has been moderately successful in building up a swimming team and has entered two men in the state wrestling tournament. His work as a baseball coach gives promise of a well-developed, well-balanced team. "Jo" has that peculiar trait of being able to make a man do what he wants him to without his being aware of the fact. "Jo" has been an important factor in the big step DePauw has made in athletics during the past year.

DAVE HOGUE

The student manager's job has been very adequately and thoroughly taken care of by Dave Hogue. His has been the thankless task of keeping track of trunks, players, all outfitting, tickets—even to good old "Doc" Ayler at times. He has been assisted in his work by Sandy, Carpenter and Stoner. These men have given unstintingly of their time and efforts to see that none of the teams lacked aught. Too much thanks cannot be given to Hogue and his worthy cohorts.

YELLS

The noise end of DePauw athletics has been held up remarkably by the energetic little yell leader, "Jimmy" Sheetz. Coming into the position after the three year reign of "Tilly" he has well kept up his end of the spirit which follows the Tiger teams. He has innovated a number of yells which almost surpass even the old "series" in the amount of noise produced. The cheering has been well organized and with "Jimmy" in charge everything points to an advance along this as well as other phases of athletics.

THE BAND

Directed by Howard Allen and led by Max Powell, DePauw's illustrious drum major who "defies the laws of gravitation", the band has furnished a stimulus and inspiration to all athletic contests that cannot be overestimated. The band accompanied the football team to Indianapolis on both occasions there and won fame for itself by its splendid playing. Pep was instilled in both the team and the rooters by its snappy music. The drum corps has also been in evidence at the athletic contests and pep fests and kept the team and rooters in step.

Director of Athletics

1921-

At a joint meeting of the Alumni Athletic Board and the faculty early this year it was announced that Athletic Director C. E. Buss had resigned and that Mr. Fred A. Walker, assistant to A. A. Stagg at Chicago University, would assume the position in June.

Few directors of physical education and athletics have come to this state with the long and varied experience credited to Mr. Walker. During his fourteen years of experience as a coach he has been in charge of athletic activities with the Utah Aggies, University of Mississippi, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., Oregon Aggies, Carnegie Tech., Williams College, Dartmouth, Second Naval District, Newport, R. I. (during the war), Rhode Island State College, and the New Agricultural College of New York. He was assistant to Follwell at Washington and Jefferson and has three times assisted Coach Stagg.

Mr. Walker entered the University of Chicago in 1904 where he made letters in football, basketball and baseball. He was an All-American end in 1907. Since leaving college he has played professional baseball and has been connected with the New York Giants, the St. Louis Cardinals, Cleveland of the American League, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn of the Federal League and with the Boston Red Sox, in the latter case as scout.

Walker's varied experience in many colleges and universities is due to his baseball career. At the end of a baseball season it has been his custom to become identified with a college or university near to the place where he has been playing ball that season. As a result he has coached in practically every part of the country. His teams in the various colleges have been remarkably successful. Having coached in all four major sports, he is especially qualified as an athletic director.

In football, basketball, and probably baseball, Walker will assume active charge of coaching. He will be responsible for all branches of sports. Intramural activities will be intensified and all phases of athletics will be thoroughly co-ordinated with the department of physical education. Taking full charge on June 15, Walker will spend the summer preparing for his work when college opens. He has, however, coached spring football, coming down from Chicago two or three times a week.

The DePauw Athletic Board believes that they have secured in Mr. Walker a coach who is second to none.

The Material

In the camp and the time following there was as fine material at hand as ever kicked up the sod on the gridiron at McKeen Field. There were eleven "D" men back, together with five men from the previous year's scrub team. They were: Ogden, Mendenhall, Galloway, Slutz, Welch, O'Neill, Norris, Yager, Jacobs, Fischer, Kepner, Gipson, Donner, Claypool, Cady and Simison. These men formed a nucleus which could not help but make a strong team—old men who had known football for a season or two of college football which is, incidentally, one of the biggest assets a man can have. There were five old linemen back and six backfield men who reported at camp and also there were men who made these old men fight all the time to retain their positions on the first team. The whole squad was faithful throughout the season and every afternoon saw thirty to forty candidates on the field. This consistency of work seemed to be one of the benefiting results of the training camp at Culver.

Graduation this June will rob the team of but two letter men and with "Tubby" Moffett and "Liz" Burton back from the '18 and '19 teams, the entering material, and DePauw's new coach in the person of Fred M. Walker there is every reason to believe that DePauw will be represented by a team which will give Notre Dame and Illinois a real fight to the end in the fall of 1921.

The Football Camp at Culver

DePauw instituted a new phase of varsity football training in 1920 when thirty-five of the most likely candidates for the team were taken to Culver Military Academy for a two weeks' vigorous training period just prior to the beginning of the fall term. Coaches Buss, Buchheit and Joseph and Dr. Ayler were in charge of the camp. The men were quartered in tents of the academy and had "mess" in the big summer mess tent of the Woodcrafters on the shore of Lake Maxinkuckee. The general routine of the camp consisted in practice twice daily; from nine-thirty to eleven in the morning and from two-thirty to four in the afternoon. Evenings were spent in lectures and rule quizzes.

Coach Buss was assisted in his work by Coach Peck of Culver, former All-American center from Pittsburg. His valuable advice was greatly appreciated by all the men.

After two weeks the men were in fine physical condition. "Hard as nails", they came to DePauw to make as fighting a team as has represented the Old Gold in many years.

The camp idea proved to be a success in that it brought the new men into close contact with the old members of the team and a unity of spirit was formed which had much to do with the success of the season.

DePauw extends her hearty appreciation to Culver Military Academy for the use of the tents, the athletic fields, swimming docks and in short, of all the fine equipment which was placed at the disposal of the Tiger football squad.

DePauw 0 Purdue 10

DePauw dropped the first game of the schedule to her old rival Purdue on the latter's field by the narrow margin of one touchdown and one field goal. The DePauw team started the fray with five new men in the lineup and, despite the unfamiliarity with each other, succeeded in holding the heavy Purdue team to a 0 to 0 score at half time. The second half was bitterly fought and the final minutes of the third quarter saw the Tiger defense crumble slowly and with enough certainty to give the Boiler-makers the necessary distance on their rushes. Finally, the Boiler-makers crashed over for a touchdown and early in the fourth quarter a goal from the field added three points to the score. In this game DePauw students saw promise of a great defensive line and a fast-traveling backfield.

An eighty yard run for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage started the game with Transylvania at Lexington, Ky. and evidently put an air of confidence into the DePauw team. From then on, until the end of the half, the DePauw backfield had a hard time puncturing the defense of the Red team. However the Transylvanians failed to stop the Tiger offense entirely and the first half ended 13 to 0 in favor of DePauw. DePauw came back stronger in the second half and with a second team in the field for part of the time secured 23 points while holding the home team well away from the goal line.

Albion was the only team in a secondary class of colleges that scored on the DePauw aggregation this year. Early in the game, the first played at Greencastle, the Michigan invaders blocked a punt and scored on a safety. This added the necessary punch to the Bussmen and with the line braced and the backfield driving hard the team ran up a score of 35 points, putting over five touchdowns on an aerial and end-running attack. This was probably the best game the team played with the exception of the Wabash fray. The Albion team was champion of Michigan in 1919 and was looked upon as a strong opponent.

DePauw 28 Franklin 0

DePauw defeated Franklin, its customary Old Gold Day rival, in one of the fastest games of the year. The Bussmen ran across four touchdowns in the second and third quarters with comparative ease. The team was bothered by a hot, dry day and was handicapped by being slightly heavier than the Franklin team. The crowd at this game was the largest that ever journeyed to McKeen Field to see a Tiger team in action.

DePauw 1 Valparaiso 0

Valparaiso followed Franklin and the DePauw team won its first game in history by a forfeit on the field of battle. The Valpo team became enraged at a decision of the officials and left the field after the third quarter was well under way. The score as provided in the rules for forfeited games was 1 to 0 in favor of DePauw. "Galloway to Gipson" is the phrase that might well describe the game, for Harold kicked one to Gibby who was on-side and Gibby marched, side-stepped, and twisted until he reached the one yard line. It was to this play that the Valpo coach objected and ordered his team off the field. The DePauw team had played on the defense as they did not play all season. The line held every attack of the heavy, seasoned team that had held Harvard for three quarters and the offense had taken the ball to the one-yard line. The team was all ready to take the ball over and would probably have done so as the team from the North was visibly weakening.

DePauw 0 Centre 34

Centre, with her three All-American men of 1919 and a string of victories over the strongest secondary teams of the country, came to Indianapolis on November 6th and gave DePauw the second and only bad defeat of the season. The game was the first of a pair of Indianapolis contests for the team. The well advertised Centre team romped over the DePauw team after being held scoreless during the first quarter. The half ended with DePauw trailing a 10 to 0 score. The team had been badly battered by Valpo the week before and a stubborn defense in the early minutes of the second quarter, when DePauw refused to allow the Centre team to score from the one yard line on four attempts, took all the men had and from then on Centre looked superior. Teddy Ogden, Depauw center and Captain, played the game of his life on this day and ran rings around Weaver, the All-American center of 1919. Many substitutes had to be made in the last part of the game and it became a run-a-way for Centre. Taken all in all it was a poor start before Indianapolis fans that was to be made up for two weeks later in the Wabash fray.

DePauw 3 Wabash 0

For the fourth time during the reign of E. C. Buss, DePauw defeated Wabash on the gridiron. The last game of the season proved to be the closest and hardest game of the year. The game throughout was marked by seesawing back and forth over the field. In the first quarter Wabash threatened to score. The second and third quarters saw the ball for the most part near the middle of the field, but in the last quarter the Tigers threw and ran the ball down to the seven yard line where a mix-up in signals proved fatal. Immediately "Gally" dropped back to the 47 yard line with but 57 seconds left to play and drop-kicked the ball between the uprights for the greatest kick ever witnessed by Indianapolis fans and which gave DePauw the victory.

The game throughout was marked by hard but clean playing. The ending was inevitable but at the same time was the most dramatic any author of fiction has ever pictured. It was the ending of a very successful season for the Old Gold—a season which did credit to Coach Buss and to the school—a season whose success was made by as fine a class of men as ever wore the Old Gold on the gridiron, a team of which the student body is justly proud.

HUGH GIBBS

Responding to the call of the Old Gold, Hugh Gibbs made his way to the football camp to train for the coming season, only to be called unexpectedly to the home above.

Hugh Gibbs was a scholar, a gentleman, and an athlete of repute. In his home town he held many cherished friendships among his comrades. There was not a man, woman, or child there who did not revere Hugh, and who did not point with pride to his life. He was a brother to all those about him and in his life and actions was one who was worthily termed "a real man". Those in DePauw who were close enough to really know him as he was, know that DePauw lost a man who would have meant a host of good things for the school had he been permitted to remain with us.

His faithfulness to the school, although just a beginner, was evidenced by his uncomplaining performances on the football field at Culver where he met his fatal accident. He was playing the game, putting every ounce of strength he had into it. When he came face to face with the inevitable on September 18th it was his wish that every student in DePauw know that, even though he could no longer play the game, there would be twelve men on the field all the time.

Hugh Gibbs exhibited the kind of grit and determination that wins for every man. What he may have lacked in physical strength, if he did lack anything, he made up for in character and personality. Hugh was the embodiment of all that is good, clean and wholesome, plus that sterling characteristic, "the friend of every man".

First Row—White, Cannon, Gipson (Captain), Mendenhall (Captain-elect), Young.

Another Speed Five

The greatest achievement of the 1920-21 basketball season came in the last game of the Tiger schedule when the Wabash Cavemen, boasting of another "Wonder Five", were defeated 28 to 27. This climax proved the additional fact that DePauw possessed the best basketball squad in the state as well as a team as great as those which had preceded it in the last two seasons.

Though handicapped at several stages by ineligibility and injuries, the fighting spirit was triumphant and victory was assured in the face of these obstacles. In the schedule of seventeen games DePauw dropped but two collegiate contests. The defeat by Indiana may be at least partially attributed to the fact that it was the fourth game of a trip through Michigan and Indiana. The other game was a 20 to 19 defeat by Wabash early in the season.

DePauw scored notable victories over the Michigan Aggies, Detroit U. and Notre Dame, defeating the Irish by five points on the same floor where Wabash succumbed to a one point defeat. "The greatest team in the Middle West" was the tribute the South Bend Times paid the Tiger quintet.

The Old Gold had a veteran team, five members, Captain Gipson, Cannon, Captain-elect Mendenhall, Young and Bills, having aided in the campaigns of other seasons. All of these men have yet other opportunities to battle for DePauw. Allee, Laughlin and White were the men who earned their first letters. White, the regular center for the major portion of the season, was an all-state forward from Franklin High School, while Laughlin was winner of the Gimbel Prize the same year.

The success of this team is an unerring tribute to the coaching ability of Edbert C. Buss who was ably assisted by Coach Joseph of the second team. None of the squad will receive diplomas from the University this year and should next season form the nucleus of another fighting five.

The Season

The prospects for a winning team during the 1920 season were very good. Five veterans returned as a nucleus around which a winning team might be built. Captain B. Guild, A. Julien, M. Guild, Davis and Isenbarger were the ones who were relied upon to lead the aggregation.

Indoor practice started on the first of March with Coach Joseph, who had just been engaged, on hand to whip the men into good shape. About fifty men responded to the first call. From these new men Darnell, Norris, Glasscock, Elwyn and Carlisle proved to be of varsity calibre.

Arlie Julien continued at his old position on the mound with Joe Glasscock and B. Guild as his helpers. M. Guild proved to be the logical man to receive them back of the plate and with this combination the team began its season with the southern trip.

Because of ineligibilities and rain the team fought at a disadvantage, losing to Transylvania and Kentucky State. The game with Kentucky U. was a good display of baseball on the part of both teams. The trip ended successfully with a game against Camp Taylor, the Tigers defeating them by a score in a ninth inning rally. The southern "sojourn" was a trip of great interest and profit to the team.

Rainy and cool weather caused a dull season but, in spite of all difficulties, the Tigers completed a successful season. The last game of the season and the last game for the Old Gold for several members of the team was won from Wabash by a score of 7 to 6.

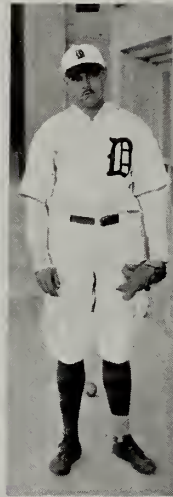

Although several members of the team were lost by graduation the prospects have been bright for a winning team in 1921. Much promising new material has been developed and with Captain Elwyn to lead we expect to see continued victories.

Track Season 1920

Coach Buchheit's 1920 team finished the most successful season any track team has had in DePauw for many years. With victories in six dual meets and third place in the state meet the school may well be proud of its thinly clad. With H. Jones, Shoptaugh, R. Mason, P. Jones, Cannady, Moffett and B. Guild, the "D" men from the year before, there was a strong aggregation on which to build a team.

At the close of the season letters were awarded to Robert Mason (Captain), Harold Jones, Henry Shoptaugh, Floyd Stewart, Norris Zechiel, Paul Jones, John Cady, Clifton Pond, Reed Cannady, Jesse Haase, Donovan Moffett, Bernard Guild, Earl Martin and Russell Buchheit.

Indianapolis Athletic and Canoe Club—February 19

This being the first meet of the season, no exceptionally fast time was made but the Tiger thinly clad defeated the Canoe Club men by the score of 47 to 43.

Wabash—February 27

In a fast and closely contested meet the Tigers lost to the Cavemen by the narrow margin of 45 to 50. DePauw took a substantial lead in the early part of the meet but was nosed out in the final event as P. Jones and H. Davis were on the sick list.

Illinois Relays—March 5

DePauw entered three men in special events in this mid-west, mid-winter event. R. Mason—75 yard dash, H. Jones—75 yard low hurdles, Shoptaugh—75 yard high hurdles.

Franklin—May 8

DePauw easily romped away with the Franklin tracksters by the top-heavy score of 101-16. Thurber's men did not take a single first in the meet. DePauw slammed in the two mile, the quarter, the pole vault and the high jump.

By a one-sided score of 76 to 41 the Tiger tracksters had revenge on the up-the-Monon track team, allowing the visitors only three firsts. H. Jones again took three firsts, winning the 100, 220 and 220 low hurdles.

Kalamazoo—May 20

On their Michigan trip the cinder artists were very successful in winning their first meet from Western State Normal by a score of 77 to 54. Five records were broken for the Normal track. The 100 yard dash in 10 flat was won by Altenburg, the Normal sprinter. H. Jones ran the 220 in 22 flat and the 220 low hurdles in 25:3, each being a mark for the event. R. Mason came up from behind Houston in the 440 and won the event in 52:1.

Michigan Aggies—May 22

Allowing the Aggies only one first DePauw trimmed the farmers by a score of 94 to 32. The meet was featured by some closely contested events. Zechiel came up from third place in the half mile and broke the tape in 2:04, defeating the Aggie runner by inches.

State Meet at Purdue—May 29

Fourteen men represented DePauw in the State meet winning third place for the Old Gold. The point getters were H. Jones, R. Buchheit, R. Mason, H. Shoptaugh, Haase, Martin and Stewart. In this meet H. Jones tied the state record in the 100 yard dash in 10 flat.

First Row—Cornthwaite, Ogden, Trick.
Second Row—Krumheuer, Donner, Joseph (Coach), Harrison, Hearst.

Swimming Team

Coach Joseph started a new line in DePauw athletics when he sent Donner, Harrison and Ogden to the Indiana A. A. U. 50 yard swimming race for the championship of Indiana. Though none of these men brought back any medals from the event, they did show promise of forming a strong nucleus for a first class swimming team. Trick, Krumheuer, Cornthwaite and Hearst have also been showing up well.

SANDY

WACHSTETTER

Wrestling

Another sport which Coach Joseph has started this year is that of wrestling. On February 24 and 25 he sent Wachstetter and W. Sandy to Indiana University to compete in the Indiana State A. A. U. Wrestling championship meets. He has had a squad of from seven to fifteen men all winter working on a combination of wrestling and boxing. During the intermission of the Notre Dame basketball game he put on an exhibition wrestling match. The work of Coach Joseph has been indeed gratifying to those who desire to see the majority of the students take part in athletic contests.

Men's Gymnasium

The foundation of a completely equipped manhood is a sound body and the development of sound bodies as temples of sound minds is sought rather than the requirement of ability to perform spectacular feats. With this in mind the work for men is carried on in the following manner: An examination is given by the Physical Director of those men who are enrolled in gymnasium classes and a vital examination is given all students of the University by a Physician and from the findings of these examinations the student is advised and assigned to the type of work that best suits his needs. While many institutions are breaking away from the general trend of old time calisthenics and dumb-bell drills, DePauw students are given varied calisthenics to full measure with games, relay races, light apparatus work and swimming to help keep the work interesting. Examinations were given to all men of the gymnasium classes on the different pieces of apparatus and all men were required to be able to swim before receiving their grade for the year's work.

As the whole question of our physical fitness goes beyond our college life, the work must form a lasting impression, a type of which should embrace not only the calisthenic exercises but an average ability to perform on apparatus, to be able to swim and dive and also be able to partake in all sorts of games and contests with pleasure to himself and his companions. In order to accomplish this goal our future work in Physical Education for the students, in addition to regular gymnasium work, must be along intra-mural lines, which call for competition.

BASEBALL

BASKETBALL

SWIMMING

Intra-Mural Athletics

The fine start given to intra-mural athletics has continued throughout the year. The spring of 1920 brought forth the Sigs as swimming champions while the early summer found the Delta Sigs with the baseball trophy in their house. The late fall presented to the Phi Delts the coveted basketball cup. Bowling was next put aside with D K E as holders in that championship.

The spring promises an even closer contesting of both the swimming and baseball championships. The added interest in swimming speaks for fast time being made at the annual meet and the fraternity baseball teams can not be beaten on paper. The year speaks favorably indeed for Coach Buchheit and his work at DePauw.

Inter-class athletics started with the Seniors severely trouncing the Junior football team by a score of 24 to 0. The Frosh-Soph game was called off at the last minute.

Basketball came next and there the Freshman team was supreme. They went through the season without a defeat. Prospects are good for a fast inter-class track meet in the early spring.

W. A. A. Awards

At the close of the 1919-20 season of co-ed athletics Mildred Briggs was presented by Miss Steese with a silver cup for having shown the best spirit and being the best all-around athlete the co-eds possessed.

Further awards were made by the W. A. A. to those girls whose rank in competitive athletics entitled them to a sweater, monogram, bar or numerals, according to the W. A. A. point system. Sweaters were awarded to Blanche Reed, Marjorie Taylor and Irene Foster.

Swimming

The swimming meet held on May Day 1920 was full of pep and enthusiasm. Competition was individual, but the classes were ranked by the total points made by their individual swimmers. The Sophomores overwhelmed the other contestants with a total of 240 points, Maud Kemp being the highest score maker with 50 points to her credit. The Freshmen, winning 50 points, took second place in the meet.

Bowling, 1920-21

The inter-house bowling tournament was carried on with a great deal of spirit. Every game was closely contested and the victorious Kappas had to work hard for their championship.

Tennis

The tennis championships decided in the spring of 1920 were carried off entirely by the Freshmen. The inter-house tournament was won by Rector Hall. The individual laurels were won by Faye Smith. She stands as the varsity champion as she represented the Freshmen in the interclass contests and Rector Hall in the inter-house.

The girl's inter-class basketball tourney was begun just after Christmas and continued till the first of March. However, in the final games 1923 defeated their opponents and carried off the laurels.

Co-Ed Gymnasium

It has formerly been the policy of the Co-ed department of physical education to emphasize formal gymnastic work. This year, however, with the advent of our two new instructors, a change of plan was instituted. The main emphasis is now placed upon the sport side of physical education and with this end in view the co-eds play soccer, volley ball and cage ball, and take hikes into the country during regular gym periods. By these methods the gym work has been made much more pleasant and the co-eds feel that the physical education department, in so far as the girls are concerned at least, has entered a new era of much greater usefulness and value.

Last year, 1919-20, points were given in W. A. A. to those who had achieved honor on the gym floor. The above are those who were thus rewarded.

Words by the Editor

The purpose of a Mirage is to keep alive the memory of past events. If you find on these pages records and pictures which recall to your mind pleasant experiences or momentous occasions almost forgotten, the main reason for the publication of this book will be fulfilled. We sincerely hope that such may be the case.

Realizing our responsibility to our school and to our class we have attempted to publish a Mirage worthy of that trust and appreciate the honor bestowed upon us as constituting the Mirage Board. The past year has been unexcelled in the history of DePauw and to depict it faithfully has been our aim.

With a full recognition of what has been done in the past we have attempted, if not to improve, at least to change certain time worn customs in editing. No effort has been spared to keep the Mirage at least on a par with other college annuals. The measure of success which we have attained rests with you. We have endeavored to show partiality toward none and to properly co-ordinate each department. If mistakes have been made they were not intentional. We have no apologies to offer. In so far as it is possible for paper and ink to truly picture life upon a college campus we have tried to do justice to DePauw.

We feel that a high quality of workmanship and materials is the first requisite of a good college annual and in accord with that ideal we have secured the best that our funds would permit. Your unbiased judgment of this book will be appreciated. We ask for no concessions. If you are pleased, that is our reward.

The DePauw

The DePauw, a semi-weekly publication, was the outgrowth of the DePauw Daily as a result of the high prices of materials, labor, and the uncertainty of the paper market during 1920-21.

The new paper has been an experiment in DePauw journalism, but in its first year has enjoyed a circulation exceeding that of the DePauw Daily in any year, and has received the loyal support of the student body. The paper is published each Tuesday and Friday afternoon. Realizing its advertising value for DePauw, the faculty has ordered it sent to fifty representative high schools of Indiana at university expense.

A student board of supervisors, which puts the control of The DePauw entirely in the hands of the students, is the new feature of the paper this year. This board, composed of four students and three faculty members, directs in a general way the policy of the paper, but the greater part is left directly in the hands of the editor-in-chief.

The DePauw has been published this year in a shop that is mechanically complete, the Riley and Werneke Press of Greencastle. Since 1919 the college paper has been published there and the facilities could only be excelled by a plant owned and operated by the University.

The DePauw appears on the same size paper as the Daily of last year, a four page, five column paper. By condensing news, decreasing the size of heads, and omitting sensational stories, The DePauw has actually carried more college news in two issues than the former Daily did in five. The student body and alumni support of the paper has proven its success in the first year. Clean campus news, coupled with an ideal mechanical make-up, has placed The DePauw foremost among Indiana collegiate newspapers.

Whether or not DePauw's student paper shall continue as a semi-weekly or revert to a Daily next year is a problem yet to be worked out. With the price of materials declining a Daily might be profitably operated but in The DePauw the University has this year bridged a gap of unsettled industrial conditions with a paper that has satisfied faculty, students and alumni.

The DePauw Magazine

The DePauw Magazine entered its second year on the campus with a subscription list which far exceeded the one last year. Each succeeding issue contains additional features from alumni and students.

The Magazine is DePauw's literary product. Original stories, poetry, essays, and plays are found within its covers. In addition, book reviews written by students form an important feature.

The Magazine is issued quarterly, appearing in October, January, March and May of the college year. To Professor R. W. Pence, of the department of English composition, belongs the credit for starting and maintaining the magazine at its present high standard.

Members of the editorial staff of the Magazine are selected on a basis of merit, and change with each issue of the publication, so that all may profit by the experience. Professor Pence acts as Managing Editor. Like The DePauw, the Magazine is sent to fifty representative Indiana high schools for the purpose of advertising the university.

Students who have been connected with the first issues of the Magazine which have appeared this year include: J. Faye Anderson, Evaline Ballard, Clark Beiriger, Mary Jane Collins, Julia David, Wendell Godwin, Frank Grismer, Grace Ruthenberg, Judith Sollenberger, Floy Winks, Oliver Baxter, Marie Bruhn, Jack Bryan, Claude Cooper, Elizabeth Ensign, Louise Ewan, Margaret George, Margaret Ann Geyler, Benjamin Habberton, Bernice Heaton, Elizabeth Heib, Helen Hinkle, Nora Miller, Ruth Nees, William Read, Florence Seiders, Margaretta Stevenson, Frances Wallace, Beulah Yeager, and Lucille Young.

The Press Club

To interest a greater number of students in journalism and to encourage a broader field of study in newspaper work, the DePauw Press Club was founded last year, under the direction of Professor L. E. Mitchell, instructor in journalism.

Students who are engaged in campus journalism, or who have engaged in any form of newspaper work, are eligible to membership. Fifty students are now enrolled as members.

Meetings are held at frequent intervals and are addressed by faculty members, or men prominent in newspaper work. Speakers of national reputation are engaged to address the club and unusual interest is being shown by the members.

The Press Club is the reflection of an enlarged DePauw. Its aim is the establishment of a department of journalism on the campus.

A University Press

Editors of DePauw Dailies for years have asked in vain for a university press which would care for school printing, as well as for the printing of campus publications. The many advantages of such a shop as an investment have been set forth repeatedly.

A university press has been the dream of campus journalists for a decade. Editors of the Daily have struggled for years under mechanical handicaps to give DePauw a paper that is a credit to the school. They have succeeded in a large way. But, during these years, their ambition has been set for a university press which would truly be a home for DePauw's paper, and around which an efficient department of journalism could be formed. Can it ever be realized?

Such an undertaking would save the school money. Appropriations now going to private firms for printing would be eliminated. In addition, campus organizations could, by sending their work to the university, give added income to the plant. It would save money and insure the appearance of various publications on time.

But most important is the fact that such a plant would inevitably be followed by a department of journalism which would be a credit to DePauw. It would mean the permanent establishment of a campus daily; it would mean added publications; and an enlargement of all. It would also afford a means of actual training for students taking journalism by permitting them to become familiar with the mechanical side.

DePauw needs a university press. The returns would far overbalance the initial cost.

Duzer Du

The Duzer Du Dramatic Fraternity strengthened its reputation as a worthwhile organization by its work of this year. The very creditable presentation of "The Challenge" represented a serious undertaking well done.

The society produced two of the three one-act plays constituting the evening program of the Old Gold Day festivities, choosing for production, "Feeding the Brute" and "A Pair of Lunatics". They will also present a full-length play this spring, selecting something of a considerably lighter vein than "The Challenge".

Owing to the unsettled economic conditions prevalent this year, the plans for the erection of a "Little Theatre" worthy of DePauw have not been strenuously promoted. However, the organization has by no means given up the idea and has received favorable word from several alumni who express themselves as being heartily in favor of the project and willing to help financially.

Fifteen new members of Duzer Du were chosen by means of competitive try-outs held in the fall which brought the total membership to thirty-one. The officers this year are: Ralph Jones, President; Beatrice Evans, Secretary; Ward Courtney, Treasurer.

“Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire”

Duzer Du chose for its 1920 spring production “Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire”, a three-act comedy by Sir James Barrie. It was extremely well liked—the plot is modern, the lines are clever and the presentation was professional in quality. A girl of sixteen brings about the plot complication by her free imagination and love of adventure. Many amusing situations follow in her wake. Margaret Spaulding played the part of the girl in a most charming manner. Gladys Geyer was splendid in her more than adequate portrayal of Alice, the mother, whose sympathy and eternal youthfulness are the controlling interests of the play. Frank Roberts, in the part of Alice’s husband, added another to his long list of distinctive successes in dramatics, and Halford Houser as the young brother and Ralph Jones as the family friend quite won their audiences. Miss Carol McMillan directed the play and planned the effective scenery.

“The Yellow Jacket”

“The Yellow Jacket”, written by George Hazelton and Benrimo, was the May Day Play given by members of the Women’s Self Government Association. It was a unique play since the plot, the settings and the characters were Chinese, and it was presented in the Chinese style of production. It was a story of two lovers and many obstacles, and the Chinese ancestral traditions figured largely in the action. The scenery and the costuming were especially effective. The play was directed by Miss Carol McMillan. Mazie Palm played Woo Hoo Git, the hero; Margaret George was Plum Blossom, the heroine, and Helen Kersey, Kathleen Kerns and Marcia Hough had important parts.

“The Challenge”

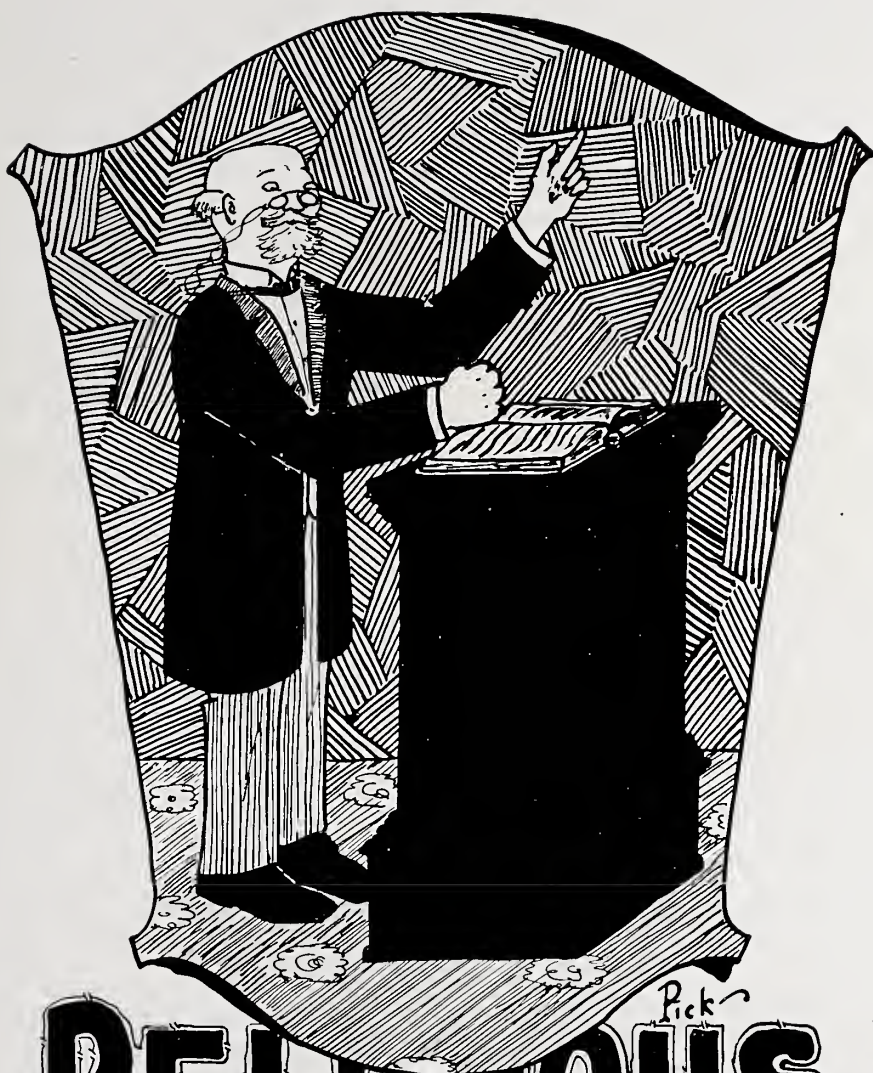

On January 19 and 22 Duzer Du presented “The Challenge”, a new play by Eugene Walter. It is a serious drama of modern theme dealing with the labor-capital question and the earnest work of a young man, Dick Putnam, to adjust conditions for the betterment of labor. The play is a heavy production and Duzer Du handled it adequately as the audience’s appreciative reception of it proved. A charming love thread runs throughout the story. Clever touches of humor are inserted and two mob scenes add greatly to the dramatic force. Paul Kepner was exceptionally strong as the hero, Dick Putnam; Albert Freeman’s remarkable voice won his audience immediately to his presentation of the character of Hal Winthrop, devoted friend of Dick and the brother of the heroine, Mary, whom Miss Bernice Mullins portrayed with clear understanding and sympathy. Joseph Barth and Nora Miller, as Mr. and Mrs. Mather, added greatly to the humor in addition to furnishing a large share of the philosophy underlying the play. The newspaper scenes, with Ralph Jones and Halfore Houser as the stars, were remarkably well staged. Halford Udell as Bemis and Carl Toole as Bertolini led in the mob scenes. The play was directed by Professor Gough and Miss Grover.

The Senior Class Play, 1920

"Bunty Pulls The Strings", a Scotch comedy, by Sir James Barrie, was presented by the Senior Class of 1920 in a matinee and an evening performance on Monday of commencement week. It was one of the most successful Senior Class plays for several years. It is the story of the way Bunty, an attractive young Scotch girl of great determination, succeeds in getting people to do exactly what she wants them to without their perceiving her intents. It is full of rich Scotch humor, and the scenic and costuming effects were decidedly artistic. Cassandra Love as Bunty, surrounded by an exceptionally well selected caste, pulled the strings of the unusual production. On the caste were: Frank Roberts, Helen Kersey, Ledger Ford, Warren Cook, Beinda Crane and Frances Hester.

The Y. M. C. A.

During the past year the work of the Y. M. C. A. has steadily expanded. Shortly after the opening of school a "Stag Mixer" for the new men was held which gave them an opportunity to get acquainted with the old men as well as their classmates. The "Y" employment bureau was instrumental in securing work for deserving men. The membership campaign which was conducted early in October resulted in over 250 men joining the "Y" by pledging their support to the complete Association objective. Two new men's bible classes were organized in the local Sunday Schools through the activity of the Y. M. C. A. and over 50 men affiliated with the Greencastle churches through the efforts of the Church Co-operative Committee.

The DePauw "Y" has taken an active part in the boys' community work in the state which was directed by W. W. Mendenhall, our State Student Secretary. George Oborn and Wilbur Grose assisted in the boys' work done by the Indiana, Wabash and DePauw Y. M. C. A's. at Speneer, Indiana, December 10-12. At Madison, Indiana, February 25-27, Ronald Fischer, Howard Allen and Wilbur Grose took part in the work done by the Y. M. C. A's. of Indiana, Franklin, Hanover Butler and DePauw. Martinsville had a similar campaign April 1-3 in which four DePauw men participated. Other week end programs for the boys were also carried out this spring.

Weekly devotional meetings have been conducted by the Y. M. C. A. which were led by students or faculty members or by men taking a prominent part in religious activities in other cities.

Four men represented DePauw at the Lake Geneva Summer Conference last June. Three men were sent as delegates to the State Conference held in Indianapolis March 18 and the officers elect for 1921-22 attended the State Officers' Training Conference held at Bloomington April 8-10.

First Row—Earl Gaskins, George Oborn, Ronald Fischer, Wilbur Grose, Tarrence Ogden, Ralph Graham.
Second Row—Theodore Proud, Eugene Wechter, Milo Mitchell, Hubert Hodgens.
Third Row—Charles Jones, Joel Wareing, Richmond Blake, Merrill Murray, Carl Too'le, Herman Yager.

The Friendship Council

Within the past year the Y. M. C. A. has established a Friendship Council which acts as a promotive force for various activities. It consists of about forty persons who serve as members of committees of which cabinet men are chairmen. The Council meets every two weeks for discussion and study. It has taken an active part in all "Y" activities with much benefit both to the Association and to the members of the Council.

The Movie

One of the most important services that the "Y" renders the campus is a picture show twice a week. This is a joint project of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to bring to the students the best pictures that can be procured and at a reasonable price of admission. This is the second year that the "Y" movie has been showing on the campus and it will without doubt become a permanent activity. The undertaking is managed by some person chosen by the Y. M. cabinet. Merrill Murray had charge during the first semester and Herman Yager during the second.

Y. W. C. A. Activities

For the year 1920-21 the Young Women's Christian Association is very proud of its record enrollment of over five hundred of the five hundred and fifty in college. The drive for membership was made by using the new personal basis for solicitation.

The Y. W. C. A. opened its year with a very successful tea given for the Freshmen women by the Cabinet and was followed by the membership drive. At Christmas time calendars and printed copies of "An If For Girls" were sold. After Christmas the drive for raising the budget was made. No dues were required but each girl was asked to contribute whatever amount she felt able to give.

The Y. W. C. A. Sub Cabinet is composed of two representatives from each cabinet committee. Its purpose is to be a training school for leadership in Y. W. It is guided in its work and study by the Vice-President of the Association.

Second Row—Ruth Blind, Katrina Blecher, Martha Stewart.
Third Row—Ema Stewart, Frank Greer, Esther Wachnitz, Ingram Carnes.

The Student Volunteers

The Student Volunteer movement is an interdenominational organization whose interest is to recruit students for foreign missionary service. In the weekly meetings its members are informed on missionary fields and problems. Many of the missionaries who today honor DePauw have been inspired by the Student Volunteers. Its activities have been expanded and its membership has been greatly increased within the past year.

Second Row—Richmond Blake, Norbert Talbott, Cloyd Gustafson, Nelson Wurgler.

The Ministerial Association

The Ministerial Association deals with the problems of present day ministry and attempts to stimulate a spirit of fellowship among students of the ministry. Their monthly meetings are usually addressed by some member of the faculty and problems which pertain to their work are discussed.

First Row—Edith Watson, Angeline Cline, Louise Ewan, Mary Fraley.

Second Row—Ellen Studley, Edith Miller.

Third Row—Unity Thomas, Marietta Clearwaters, Inez Schumm, Mary Louise Arnold.

Absent—Frances Grose, Prudence Blood.

The Lake Geneva Club

The Lake Geneva Club is made up of girls of DePauw who have attended the Y. W. C. A. summer conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The club has for its motive and interest the growth of and leadership in the Y. W. C. A.

May Day

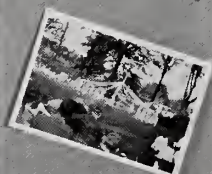

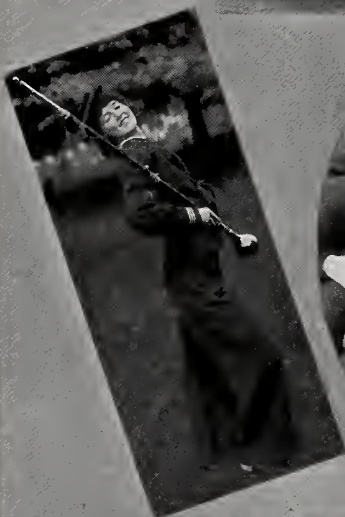

Why it failed to rain, no one knew, but just the same no one was broken-hearted; not even Miss Steese who for several years has been obliged to present the annual pageant in the gymnasium instead of at Rosa Bower, to say nothing of other rearrangements.

May Day, more commonly characterized as "Rain Day", thus started with the customary breakfast served on the grounds of the campus by the Y. W. C. A. Following the breakfast and the sale of the Co-ed Daily and May Day programs, the entire co-ed body marched to McKeen field where the day's events started. Four cleverly arranged floats, representing the four classes, and led by the girls' drum corps under the leadership of Mildred Cloyd, '21, headed the line of march. The usual baseball game, inter-class track meet, swimming meet and tennis tournament completed the morning's events.

The Woman's Athletic Association presented the annual pageant in the afternoon at Rosa Bower. The pageant "The Choice of American Girlhood" was written by Margaret Mead. Twelve girls, representing the twelve hours, presented balloons to the "Spirit of DePauw", Marian Thrush, '20, who in turn gave them to the "Spirit of American Girlhood", Margaret Laughlin, '20, for rejection or acceptance. The only attendants were the "Spirit of the College of Liberal Arts", Gladys Geyer, '20, and the "Spirit of the School of Music", Carolyn Osbon, '20. The maypole dance by the Senior Women concluded the pageant.

The evening's program consisted of a presentation of the "Yellow Jacket", written by George Hazelton and Benrimo. The play was under the direction of the W. S. G. A. and was directed by Miss McMillan. The caste, though large, was well chosen and the presentation itself was remarkably well handled. Cassandra Love, '20, and Alice Watts, '22, did excellent work in costuming.

The grand finale to the Gala Day came in the form of a lantern parade, in which every girl carried a brilliantly lighted Japanese lantern, and like so many hundred fireflies, their light could be seen flashing across the campus.

Hightower

Old Gold Day

You all know the type of day in the fall of the year that we term superb, the leaves turned to gold, the air crisp, and a bit of breeze, well that was the kind of day that October gave us to celebrate our "Fourth of July" this year.

Long before the appointed hour for the Old Gold chapel lines of students and visitors could be seen jubilantly making their way to Meharry Hall. The Junior and Senior men in their class garbs were well set off by the gay frocks and class colors of the co-eds while the underclassmen, girded in their battle garb, screeched their yells of defiance.

The program was begun by the University band and followed by the "Old Series". The history of the origin and customs of the day were related by James Claypool, '21.

Mr. William P. Evans, '07, gave the chapel address in which he made many comparisons between the DePauw of today and that of former days. He also prophesied as to the DePauw of to-morrow.

At the conclusion of the chapel service the line of march to McKeen field was formed under the direction of Major Shute. The annual class scrap was a scene of dreadful scrimmage and, although the Freshmen far outnumbered the Sophs, when the final gun was fired the second year class colors were still flying from the top of the pole.

The upperclass football teams next took the field and, amid the cheers of their respective classes, fought for honors. At the end of the fourth period the Juniors were forced to acknowledge defeat.

After all had returned from the field and had assembled about the flag pole, the banners of each of the classes were raised and flung to the breeze, symbolizing a united and loyal student body pressing forward to the ideals of DePauw for the whole year. The celebrated "green caps" of the first year men were then distributed and the presidents of the four classes made a few short remarks.

In the afternoon came the annual scrap with Franklin and the Blue was made a deeper hue when the snappy aggressive playing of the Tigers tallied a score of 28 against their 2.

The evening vaudeville was played at the Bowman Gymnasium. Duzer Du gave two one-act plays entitled "The Feeding of the Brute" and "A Pair of Lunatics". A student production was also given portraying a portion of the campus activities and named "Sammy Shifter Shifts His Sister".

Founders' and Benefactors' Day

DePauw has from time to time received many very generous gifts in the form of splendid buildings, lecture courses and endowments. In honor of those men and women who have been so generous and have worked so diligently and earnestly for the welfare of the college, DePauw has set aside a day in the year for the celebration of "Founders' and Benefactors' Day".

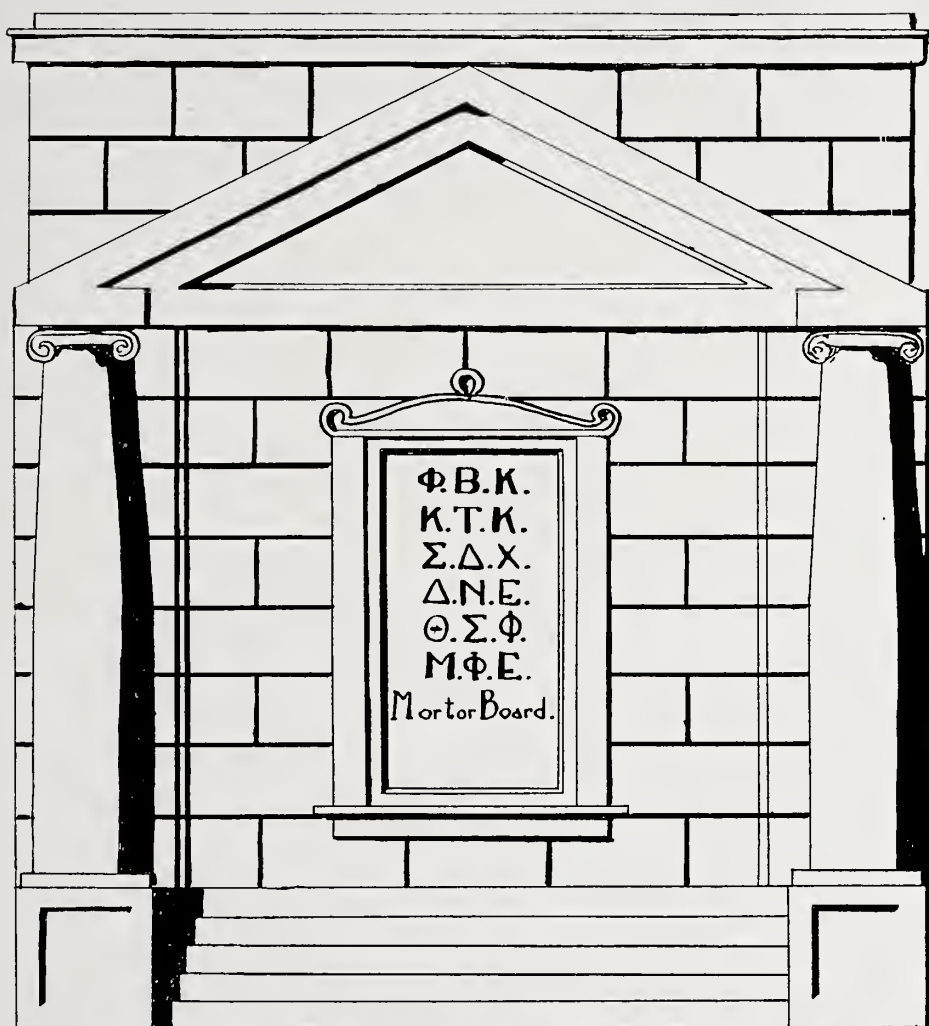

On February 22 classes were suspended for the entire day and at 10 o'clock the student body marched to chapel in Meharry Hall according to their respective classes. President W. L. Bryan of Indiana University gave the address of the morning, speaking on the subject "The Trap". The activities of the morning were concluded by the singing of the "Toast to Old DePauw".

The Christmas Party

We would never recognize the brilliantly lighted tree, glistening with beautiful ornaments and aglow with red and green lights, as the one which stands in Middle Campus. On Thursday night, December sixteenth, over four hundred faculty members, students and children of Greencastle gathered around the large tree. On either side of the tree a Santa Claus was stationed, guarding a huge sack filled with candy which was distributed to all of the children under ten years of age.

The program opened by the DePauw brass quartette playing "Silent Night, Holy Night" from the steps of the gymnasium. Martha Trippier responded with a selection from Music Hall and the University Choir echoed "O, Come All Ye Faithful" from Meharry Hall. "Silent Night", sung by the audience, concluded the evening.

Immediately afterward the children were taken to the "Y" movie by the students. The party was given under the direction of the Student Council working with Dean McCutcheon.

Debate at DePauw

Last October at Indianapolis was effected a Debating League among the colleges and universities of Indiana. In the course of thirty days some twelve educational institutions of the State became members: Notre Dame University, Valparaiso University, Goshen College, Central Indiana University, Earlham College, Franklin College, Butler College, Wabash College, North Manchester College, DePauw, Indiana, and Purdue Universities.

In many ways the plan adopted by this League is unique. In the first place, with a view to doing away with the problem and the expense of judges, it was decided that both affirmative and negative teams representing each institution should contest away from home. In each instance five members of the local faculties were employed as judges.

In the second place, it was planned that in four triangles these institutions should on the 11th of March debate the same proposition: Waiving all questions as to transportation, the Federal Government Should Own and Operate All the Coal Mines of The United States. Constitutionality granted.

In the third place it was agreed that a second series of debates should be held one week later March 18th, with a different constituency for each triangle.

In the first series the affirmative team representing DePauw at Indiana University lost to the negative team representing Purdue. The members of this DePauw affirmative team were:

Alva C. Surber, '23
 Milo B. Mitchell, '22
 Ralph Jones, '21

In this first series the negative team representing DePauw at Purdue University won over the affirmative team representing Indiana University. The members of this negative team were:

Lawrence Cloe, '24
 Howard Holmes, '24
 William Cox, '23

In the second series, the DePauw affirmative team lost at Butler College to the negative team representing Goshen College; the negative team representing DePauw won at Goshen College over the affirmative team representing Butler College.

It is believed that this arrangement for debates will prove most advantageous. It is hoped that DePauw will be represented in other leagues next year.

Both men and women will find most practical training afforded in this connection.

Down at DePauw

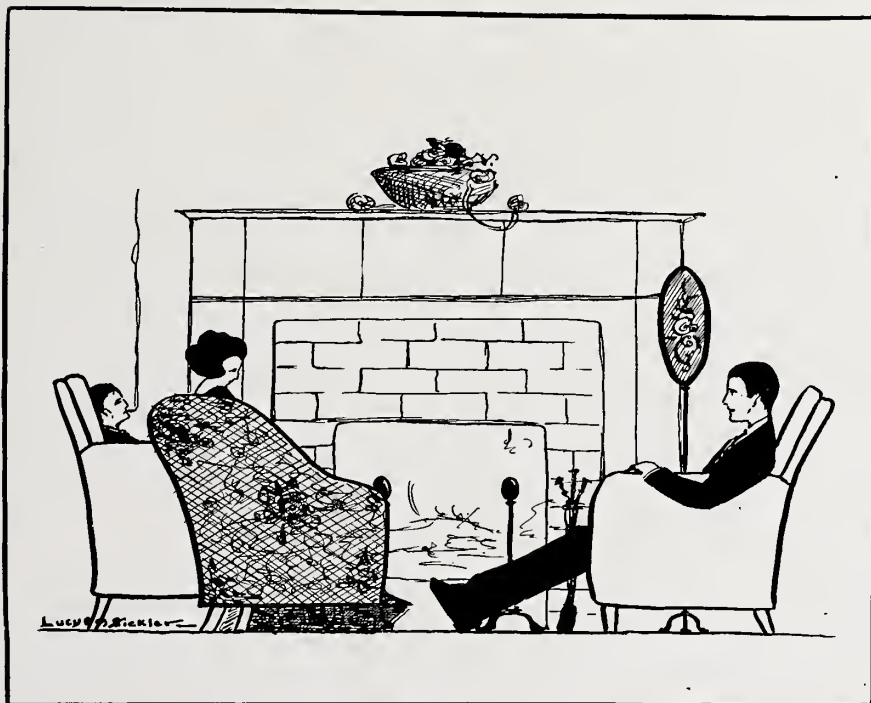

In no other school are skies as blue
 As in DePauw;
In no other school are hearts so true
 As in DePauw;
The girls are nowhere quite so sweet,
 And purer hearts do nowhere beat,
For heaven and earth do truly meet
 Down at DePauw.

There's one old campus with land so fair,
 Down at DePauw;
So full of work, so free from care,
 Down at DePauw;
I fully believe the happy clime,
 Prepared for man at end of time,
Resembles much our school sublime,
 Down at DePauw.

The days are never dark or long,
 Down at DePauw;
They're always filled with happy song,
 Down at DePauw;
And when my time has come to die,
 I'll face the Reaper from on high
And lay me down without a sigh,—
 If at DePauw.

Its purpose is to perpetuate that feeling of fellowship and Americanism which existed among the soldiers who were in the service abroad. All men in DePauw, who served in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States, in the war zone, and who have been honorably discharged from the service, are eligible to membership. There are thirty-two active members. Prof. Matlock, Major Shute and Sergeant Spears are honorary members.

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps is a coming organization on the DePauw campus. During the last two years there has been a marked improvement in the unit and the enrollment has doubled. This is due to a large extent to the personnel of the staff in the Military Department who have had wide experience in the art of war in this country and in France.

The unit next year is to take up the commutation plan of the Government on uniforms which is a great improvement over the old system of issue. The uniforms in a general way will be of British officer type and the officers will have the distinction of a different style blouse and equipment. This new type of uniform will do a great deal to increase the morale of the unit which has been exceptionally good this year but which needs the co-operation of all the men in the unit and the student body to make it the success it deserves.

One of the new events on the campus this year was the interest shown in the rifle association and the rifle teams which have so well represented DePauw in conference meets and in the individual meets with the different schools of the fifth corps area. At the beginning of the year the government issued to the University six new gallery rifles which have done much to aid the unit in its matches this year. It is the hope of those in charge that the unit's rifle team will keep up its record and will in the future hold a more honored place on the campus.

The summer camp is coming into its place in the minds of the students and as a result there are a large number going to camp this summer. There was only one man at camp this last summer but the prospects for this summer are at least thirty men. This is a boost to DePauw and will aid in making this school an honor school which is a coveted distinction among the schools of the country.

Those in charge of the local unit are of exceptional quality and DePauw is extremely fortunate in obtaining such men to fill these offices. Major Martyn H. Shute is a graduate of West Point and with his experience in France, Philippines and the border is well qualified to head the unit. The improvement in the unit in the last two years is a good indication of the type of man DePauw has as Commandant. His interest in the unit and the school and his fairness to all those with whom he comes in contact has won for him the good will of those in the unit and the whole student body. The unit has two warrant officers and two sergeants; the former are Mr. Harris and Mr. Spears who were both officers in France, the latter are Sgt. Shrigley and Sgt. Gregory who both saw service in the late war. We are fortunate to have such men as instructors and their wide experience shows itself in the unit.

The DePauw School of Music

HISTORY

The DePauw School of Music was founded in 1884, and is one of the oldest schools in this state. Being within itself a part of DePauw University it enjoys a close association with all the other departments, and derives great advantages. In 1882 and 1883 John P. D. John was appointed Director of the music department of what was then Asbury University. There was no school of music but private lessons were offered and in due time a department of music was created. James Hamilton Howe of the New England Conservatory of Music was appointed as the first Dean of the new Music school. Under his very proficient organization and work the Music school became an important addition to the curriculum of DePauw. In 1894 Dean Howe retired, leaving his office to Mrs. Belle A. Mansfield. In 1911 R. G. McCutcheon was appointed Dean of Music School.

The School of Music under its present standing is under the supervision of a Dean of Music and the Faculty of the School of Music. The students are subject to the same general rules as the other students of the University. The primary purpose of the DePauw School of Music is to educate students who desire to make a serious study of music. The school endeavors not only to furnish the best instructors and the most modern equipment, but also to surround the pupil with a musical atmosphere which shall be at once a stimulus and a discipline. To these ends Dean McCutcheon has given his best efforts and has brought the School to a high point of efficiency and marked it with a reputation that few enjoy. The Dean is a tireless worker and is ever trying to better Music School. He is loved and respected by every student on the campus.

Equipment of School of Music

The School of Music is furnished with the most up-to-date equipment and affords every advantage. There are forty-seven practice rooms each containing a piano, either grand or upright. An assembly room seating two hundred is used for student recitals. The School is equipped with rest rooms and a very complete music library. A two manual tubular-pneumatic Moller pipe organ is installed in the assembly room and is used both for practice and for teaching. Another two manual organ is installed in a practice room for practice purposes. The large three-manual electric organ, erected in Meharry Hall by Casavant Bros. in 1914 is one of the finest instruments in this part of the country. It contains thirty-three speaking stops and its volume and tone excells many organs of a larger capacity. This organ is used daily in Chapel services, also in University services and on other occasions.

Concerts and Recitals

Each year a number of the foremost artists and musical organizations have appeared in Greencastle under the auspices of the Music School. Such organizations as the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, the Russian Symphony, New York Chamber Music Society, etc. are brought here. Artists of the calibre of Leopold Godowsky, Rudolph Ganz, Arthur Middleton, Maud Powell and Mayo Wadler, have graced the platform at Meharry Hall in the interests of better musical appreciation.

Faculty Recitals and Student Recitals

Members of the Faculty give recitals at various times throughout the year. To give students experience in public performance, weekly student recitals are given by assigned students. More than two thousand five hundred of these recitals have been given since the organization of the School.

The University Choir was organized in 1911 by Dean R. G. McCutcheon. It consists of sixteen voices selected from the entire University. The choir is not only renowned on the DePauw campus, but holds an enviable position, musically, throughout the state.

For the past two years the choir has spent a profitable and enjoyable two weeks at Bay View, Michigan, and plans have been arranged for another trip this summer. Dean McCutcheon has charge of the music school there and arranges for all concerts in the assembly hall.

First Row—Esther Winks, Helen Niblack, Katherine Horstman.

Second Row—Lela Longman, Azalia Scott, Margaret Pearson.

Absent—Alvin Thomas.

The American Guild of Organists

The American Guild of Organists was founded at New York City twenty-five years ago under the charter granted by the College of the City of New York. At present there are chapters in nearly every state. No examinations are required for colleague memberships. The degrees of Associate (A.A.G.O.) and Fellow (F.A.G.O.) are bestowed upon those who pass the required examinations.

The Indiana chapter was founded in December 1918, by twenty-two organists who met at DePauw University. The first Dean elected was Mr. V. D. Thompson, of the DePauw School of Music. He has been twice re-elected.

The Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Minnie Murdoff Kimball, is one of the largest and most interesting organizations on the campus. It affords those girls who are interested in music an opportunity to secure musical training in addition to their regular work.

The Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee Club was re-organized last year by Omar Wilson after a lapse of five years. The great success of the club this year has been largely due to his efforts. There are thirty voices in the club which include a male quartette, a brass quartette and a jazz orchestra. Miss Violet Sommer, Soprano, proved to be a very popular and artistic innovation to the program. The Club made two extended tours this season on which they visited a number of towns in Indiana. The trips proved very satisfactory in every way, the Glee Club receiving a royal welcome wherever they went.

The Brass Quartette

The Brass Quartette was composed of Carl Toole, Baritone; Norris Zechiel, Trombone; James McAdams, Cornet; Howard Allen, Cornet. It gave variety to the Glee Club program and made a hit wherever it appeared.

The De-Jay Orchestra

The De-Jay orchestra was an innovation in the Glee Club program and proved unusually successful. The general public likes "jazz" music and the De-Jay orchestra endeavored to do its bit.

The Tiger Quartette

DePauw can boast of a real male quartette. These men have distinguished themselves this season by their unique concerts. The quartette is unusually well balanced and under the coaching of Omar Wilson has developed into an expert group of harmony singers. The four have made many week-end trips and their services have been much in demand throughout the year.

Second Row—Virtue Lukenbill, Blanche Wilson, William Hester, Kathreine Rothenberger, Prof. H. J. Barnum, Florence Guild, Arthur Perry, Mary Louise Holderman.

The University Orchestra

The orchestra, under the leadership of Professor Barnum, was a very well balanced organization. Membership was limited so that much better ensemble training was obtained. Students showing the required proficiency are eligible to membership.

The University Band

The University Band holds a prominent place among the student activities. The band this year numbers forty-five men, larger and better balanced than before. This year the organization is formed on a double basis. Besides the regular complete University band there is an R. O. T. C. band composed of the R. O. T. C. members who receive their military credit for band work instead of the regular drill. The band has taken a very important part in all athletic contests and is deserving of much support.

The Student Council

The present Student Council is an outgrowth of the old DePauw Athletic Association of 1902. In 1907 it was composed of all students of the university who had paid the athletic fee for the current term.

In 1910 the organization was placed on a different basis and since that time has undergone many changes until today it is the official representative of the entire student body. The Student Council is composed of the Student Body Officers, Presidents of S. G. A., W. A. A., Mortar Board, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A. and Kappa Tau Kappa, two unorganized representatives, four Senior, three Junior, two Sophomore and one Freshman representative, the managers of the "D" Association and the "DePauw".

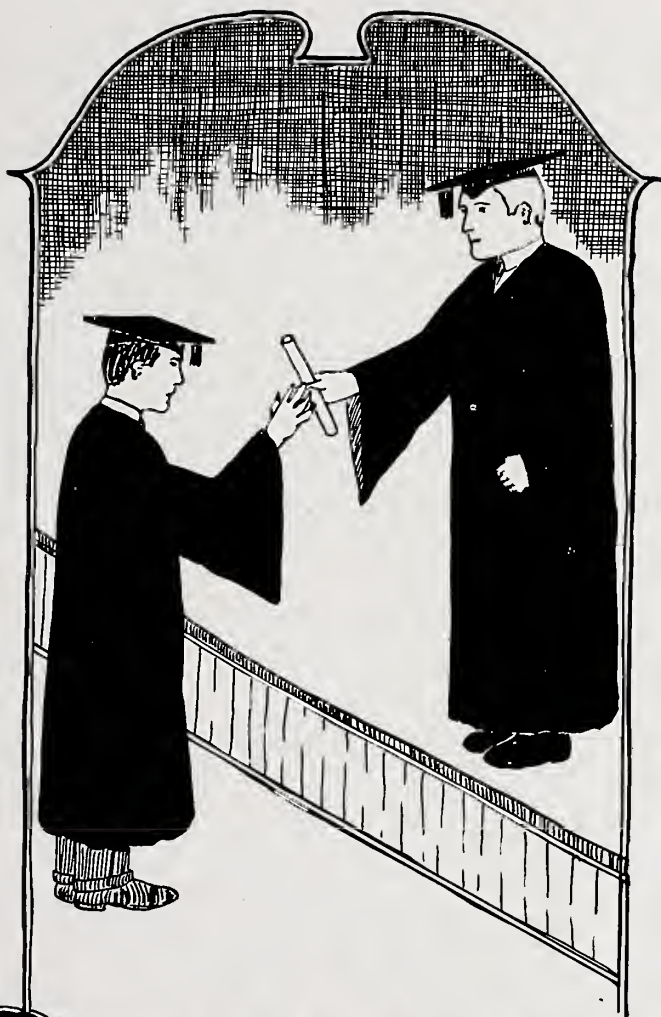

The Student Council has charge of Old Gold Day and all class elections and furthers all movements which mean a bigger, better and finer DePauw.

Honorable Mention

For the thirty-sixth consecutive time the Mirage has at last come out. Changing the custom of fall election, the Mirage Board for this year was elected by the Sophomore Class in the spring of 1920. This enabled the Board to get a line on the work during the summer and get under way as soon as school started in the fall. Of course it has been our aim to make the 1921 Mirage "the best ever". The measure of success which has been attained is not due alone to the efforts of the Board but to all the members of the Staff, who have worked earnestly as editors of departments. We wish to thank them for their co-operation. We also wish to express our appreciation for the contributions of Professor Caldwell who enlivened our view section with verse. Next we would like to express our thanks to Professor Eckhardt for his criticism and censorship; to Leroy Pickard, Raymond Neff and Lucy Sickler for their earnest efforts in making this publication artistic; to Frederick Glossbrenner for his contributions to the Joke Department; to Maude Kemp for her work in the Co-ed Athletic Department; to Clyde Hunter for his work in gathering photos; to Mr. J. O. Cammack for his handling of the photographic work, the difficulties of which are little appreciated; to Mr. L. W. Bonsib of the Indianapolis Engraving and Electrotyping Company for his assistance and advice along many lines and to whose company is due the credit for the quality of the engravings used in this book; to the David J. Molloy Company who made the covers; and to the Rogers Printing Company for the mechanical completeness of the book.

JOKES

Don't Read This

It has been a matter of very grave concern to the joke editors to devise some means of ascertaining whether or not a person has the cerebral capacity to withstand the mental stress and strain one encounters in the following section. In realizing this yet unattempted purpose there has been no limit in the employment of intellects, money, and time. We have endeavored to obtain the opinions of such eminent psychologists as the Dean of American Women Mind Inspectors, Miss Ima MacErell, Mr. Bill Poster, T. N. T., Miss May I. Sneeze, Count Hoff, Prof. Charr Cole, Dr. P. Green, and the late Gunn E. Sac, T. B. of Wabash Preparatory School. The voicing of sentiment is unanimous in declaring that a psychological examination of a very rigorous type is indispensable at this time. With the aid of the comic sections of Sunday papers and an approved dictionary of philosophical terms we present the following tests as the fruits of our labor. Readers are merely required to submit signed statements showing that they have received and given aid during this examination, but have at all times strictly adhered to the Honor System. Since we deem it both unnecessary and superfluous to assert that these questions must be answered correctly before this section can be understood, we will not take the time to mention it here.

Imagination Test:

1. Close your ears, fold your feet across your breast, gaze fixedly at a point midway between your shoulder blades, and imagine that you are the missing link of a chain of wienies. If you are able to feel dog-matic you are A-1.

2. Imagine that you are in an upstairs room over a vacant lot. If it is possible for you to picture yourself ejected because of delinquency in payment of rent you are unreservedly qualified.

Memory Test:

1. Observe closely a well functioning clock. See if you can remember precisely the respiration of a tick.

2. Which is easier for you to remember, a date with a pretty girl or one with a dentist.

3. See if you can remember the point to any one of Dr. Naylor's jokes.

4. See if you can remember the men to whom you owe money. This is the test supreme.

Send $1.00 and costs for our free book on memory.

Mathematical Test:

1. Have you an eye for figures? Interpretation counts 102% in this question.

2. If it takes forty yards of calico to make a hump-backed elephant a pair of suspenders, how many pancakes would it take to shingle a dog-house?

3. If B and Y are working for Q at Z dollars per hour and receive an increase of V ducats per annum, how much income tax would C have to pay if he drew as much as D? Note: B V D equals .000 @ $\frac{1}{2}$.

Pronunciation Test:

This pronunciation test reveals whether or not you are a pronounced failure. Check your results carefully with the indisputable criterion, . . . the Blue Book. If you pronounce one of the following correctly you are a wizard, if you get two right you are a liar.

1. R

3. Rip-p-p-p.

5. Mxaltrockosky.

2. Kerchoo.

4. Whoops Nellie.

6. Hie.

Send your autographed manuscripts to the Grand Slam of the Asbestos Club. Correct answers to these tests will be published in the next issue.

A Date.

Suppose some night you have a date,
 But Fate has ruled 'tis true
 That she has seen the movie show,
 Now tell me what to do.

Perhaps a visit to the Greeks
 Might help the cause somewhat,
 But now between just you and me
 That doesn't hit the spot.

Perhaps she'd like to dance a bit,
 And maybe you would too,
 But such an act in this wild town,
 Would prove your Waterloo.

So we'll just stay at home tonight—
 There's nothing else to do—
 And play that we're comedians
 And crack a joke or two.

An Englishman who was visiting in this country was being shown the public library in New York by his American friend. He was informed as to how many years it took to build it and what a fortune it cost. The Englishman then said, that England had a much finer building which cost more and took a longer time to build.

The American then showed him the Brooklyn Bridge, explaining the effort and money it took to build it but the Englishman replied that they had a bridge that exceeded even that.

The American then, very much chagrined took his friend down Broadway. Soon they came to the Woolworth building. The Englishman paused and looked it over and then asked his friend what building that was. The American hesitated a moment and said, "Darned if I know, it wasn't here this morning when I came past."

Important Happenings of the Year

September 20—Another grand rush with a long waiting line of wild-eyed freshmen and wilder-eyed Grecian maidens looking at the "prospectives".

September 21-22—Continuation of Monday, with—Subscribe to the DePauw!; Subscribe to the DePauw Magazine!!; pay S. G. A. dues now!!; etc., etc.

September 23—Annual announcement of registration as greatest in history of the school. Usual confusion due to inadequate supply of textbooks.

September 24—Sorority rush ends. Sophs begin scrapping with Frosh by driving them from Flossie Hall.

September 29—Freakish fashions appear on the campus—accredited to squeleh week at the dorms.

September 30—The long, lean, lanky, Beta double of Wm. S. elected Freshman scrap captain. S. G. A. holds first meeting to discuss date rules. Here's hoping!

October 1—New cut system explained—not so easy now (?). Pan-hellenic O K's open rush. Freshman themes on "Why I Came to College" now due. Side door Pullmans going north billed as leaving at 11:40 P. M. and 3:15 A. M.

October 2—Great exodus to Purdue where everyone got initiated and thus became charter members.

October 4—Are you a Shifter? Today's campaign brought total membership to 500, with prospects for 100% membership on campus by Wednesday. And Adelbert was one of the first to join!—also many other Profs.

October 6—Varsity Shop now open—everything from bats to string! Courteous salesman!! All one could wish!!!

October 7—Our attitude toward hazing echoed in New York newspaper. The "Eye of the World" is upon us. Announcement that there will be two issues of the Yellow Crab this year (if not suppressed!).

October 14—Conservatives register victories in all but Freshman class. The fifteen minutes gained by the new ten o'clock date rules aint so much, but we may be able to turn them to good account.

October 16—Open House! Nuf sed. Only one fatality reported so far—ten gallon jug of cider disappeared from Alpha O back porch. Let 'er stand, boys, let 'er stand!!

October 18—New date rules meet with approbation of all—even the faculty. Wonder how long it will last?

UNIVERSITY SHOP CHAPEL SERVICE

November 2—Election day coming—those who are old enough get a vacation. Faculty tries to find slump in scholarship due to new date rules. Some persons are NEVER satisfied.

November 5—Greencastle Republicans stage monster parade and invite the Democrats to join. Everybody out with the old pepper for the Centre game.

November 6—Someone had to lose, and this time we were the goat, 34-0. But just wait until next year.

November 10—"Doc" Sweet lectures to fair co-eds, giving some inside dope on football.

November 15—George sez, "The best sensation we can think of is to oversleep a class, then find out that the prof forgot to take the roll."

November 18—"Wallop Wabash; waylay Wabash; whitewash Wabash; wreck Wabash; whip Wabash; walk on Wabash."

November 20—DePauw 3 Wabash 0.

November 21—Dr. Gobin breaks a lifetime's habit and reads a Sunday newspaper, but who wouldn't—look what was in it.

November 22—No holiday to celebrate such a victory. The faculty shows a sullen audience what a fine choir it would make if it only had the opportunity. Kappa Tau recommends Pan-Hellenic for men.

November 24—All aboard for pumpkin pie and turkey.

November 29—"Ted" re-elected football captain. Athletic Board awards eighteen "D's".

November 30—Chemistry department broke loose in chapel. Whew-w-w, if Prexy had only been there!

December 1—Chapel lasted for ten minutes only. Of all th———!

December 6—Senator Beveridge speaks on John Marshall. Them's the kind of alums we like and especially when they tell us how to be a public speaker.

December 9—"New organizations must receive the O. K. of faculty." That knocks out the Shifters, Tau Sigma, the Yaller Dawgs, the Fish Club, and all such illustrious organizations.

January 21—Class in astronomy proves, in two tests, that earth rotates westward instead of eastward. Wonder where they got that bosh.

January 24-28—Mid-semesters. We can say no more unless it be "In Memoriam" for those who left us not of their own free will.

February 13—Spring is here!, heralded by infallible signs—the Sunday afternoon dates, the Sig's moving out on the front porch and the airing of the Deke victrola.

February 16—Sigma Nu porch swing swept off for the opening of the spring season.

February 17—Vocational Conference, and the annual struggle of the "weaker" sex to decide what they shall do after graduation, if they can't pluck off a man before then.

February 18—Semester grades sent home by registrar—and now we'll all be "broke" for some time to come, not daring to ask for a check.

February 22—"Bounders' and Factors' Day" gives another vacation. Ain't it grand that DePauw was founded?

February 24—And the colder weather doesn't seem to affect the length of the co-eds' skirts a bit.

February 25—Buss resigns after five years of hard but progressive and successful work for our athletics.

March 3—Robert Charles Buss sends Tiger team to victory over Wabash, 28-27, with a "Wuff-Cavemen!"

March 4—A strike.

March 7—"Hell-week" begins.

March 8—George sez, "President Wilson walked out March 4th. So did the student body. The only difference being we got the cuts."

March 9—Benches for benefit of college snakes and cut-ups placed in front of University Shop.

March 11—It's a cruel world for the Freshman who promised "her" his pin, and then didn't get initiated.

March 15—Somebody's always taking the joy out of life. Faculty announces penalty of one hour if we stage another walk-out. Well, we'd do anything once, but any one knows that it doesn't work as well the second time.

March 17—In the midst of the shamrocks, the "woman in black" appears again.

March 19—Ground broken for new athletic field.

March 21—Auxilliary chapel at University Shop suspends services until warmer weather.

March 25—Everyone off to hunt Easter eggs on the old homestead, and the Mirage goes to press.

Husband—"I don't ask for thanks, dear, but I really insist on respect."

"Were those good cigars Ken Orr brought you from Cuba?"

"Yeah, he knows the ropes down there."

Cruel Pop

He—"What did your father say when you told him that my love for you was like a gushing brook?"

She—"He said, 'Dam it'."

Foolish Question No. 9

Porter (to man who has just run after train and missed it)—"Miss your train, suh?"

Man—"No, idiot, I was just chasing the damn thing out of the yard,"

Mark You This

Dr. Eckhardt—"Have you an elementary knowledge of scientific terms? Then I shall try to explain why there can be no hell."

Trees—"Go to it, old man, I'll try to follow you."

Professor in Aeronautical History—"Can anyone name the first Aeronautical Journal?"

Voice from the back of the room—"Fly paper."

Very Wasteful

"Hi, gimme a handful of waste!" I howled. (I was under the auto to grease it.)

But Jim had an armful of waste in the car, And wasn't disposed to release it.

A Verbal Complaint

A sufferer who lives close to a railroad yard in the suburbs wrote the following to the railroad company complaining about the racket made by a switch engine:

"Gentlemen: Why is it that your switch engine has to ding and dong and fizz and spit and clang and bang and buzz and hiss and bell and wail and pant and rant and howl and yowl and grate and grind and puff and bump and click and clank and chug and moan and hoot and toot and crash and grunt and gasp and groan and whistle and wheeze and squawk and blow and jar and jerk and rasp and jingle and twang and clack and rumble and jangle and ring and clatter and yelp and howl and hum and snarl and puff and growl and thump and boom and clash and jolt and jostle and shake and screech and snort and snarl and slam and throb and crink and quiver and rumble and roar and rattle and yell and smoke and smell and shriek like hell all night long?"

Oh!

"Does your fountain pen leak all the time?"

"No, only when I have ink in it."

Doc Brown—"Have you noticed how the professors of mathematics are helping the government get rid of the radicals?"

The Good Old Days

Whatever trouble Adam had,

No man in days of yore
Could say when he had heard a joke;
"I've heard that one before."

"I'll never take another drop", said the soused one as he fell off the cliff.

How Come?

Next Stop, Amo.

"Is this a fast train?"

"Of course it is," said the conductor.

"I thought it was, but would you mind taking a look to see what it is fast to?"

Prof. Caldwell—"Mr. Mutschler, please quote from the 'Idylls of the King'."

Mutschler—"More things are wrought by God than man dreams of."

2 x 5

Prof.—"Name ten artic animals."

Student—"Five seals and five polar bears."

Where Else?"

Prof.—"Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Student—"At the bottom."

A Grave Question.

Student—"What are we going to do tonight?"

Another student—"Let's go over to cemetery and dig up a couple of girls."

"That's the guy I'm laying for!", muttered the hen as the farmer crossed the road.

REMEMBER MARCH 4TH ?

Naturally.

'Twas midnight in the parlor
'Twas darkness everywhere.
The silence was unbroken, for
There was nobody there.

The Final Question

Professor—"The examination questions have been made out and are in the hands of the printers. Is there any other question?"

Voice from the back row—"Who's the printer?"

College Avenue offers for disapproval the latest thing in streets—macadam marcelle wave.

You can tell a college man far away but you can't tell him much.

Roast Bif

Soph—"Gee, I wish I worked on the Mirage, I just heard the faculty gave the staff a big feed."

Junior—"Where did you get the information?"

Soph—"I overheard one Junior say to another that the faculty gave the staff a big roast last month."

Out of Ammunition.

Son—"Yes, Dad, I'm a big gun down at DePauw."

Father—"Well, why don't I hear better reports?"

Poor Shape

Teacher—"Johnny, what is the shape of the world?"

Johnny—"I heard pop say the other night that it was in a hell of a shape."

Very Satisfactory Service

April 8, 1921

MR. J. O. CAMMACK,
Greencastle, Indiana

Dear Sir:

With the photographic work completed, the Mirage Board wishes to express, if possible, its appreciation for your work and co-operation in publishing the 1921 Mirage.

We feel confident that the photography throughout the book will meet with the approval of our readers. The promptness with which you took care of the great amount of photographic work and your assistance in panelling and grouping aided us very materially in getting the book out on time.

Our association with you has been most pleasant and we wish to thank you for your courtesy and consideration. To say that we have received very satisfactory service is to leave the half unsaid. We hope that we may further express our appreciation in the future.

Very truly yours,

GEO. T. OBORN, Editor-in-Chief.

Dedicated to All Who Were Once Little Shavers

Remember the days when you were a kid
And you wanted to do what your father did,
So you shaved?

Remember that first great thrill you had
When you lathered your face up, just like Dad,
And you thought you looked like a
"Mennen's" ad
And you shaved?

You handled the strop with a reverence due
To your thoughts of its other uses, too;
But you shaved.

And your soul was filled with a rapture
rare
As the keen blade severed each virgin hair,
And your face emerged both smooth and bare.
You had shaved.

But old Father Time forever reigns
And yesterday's pleasures today are pains,
So we shave.

Gone is the sense of exotic bliss
That we feel at the touch of the razor's kiss.
Our love of it now amounts to this—
We must shave.

Though our hirsute affliction we loudly
moan,
Each morning we find that a new crop's grown;
So we shave.

But as we grow old and the end is neared,
New terrors arise that we ne'er before feared,
For whose seen an angel who sported
a beard?
They too shave!
—LORD JEFF

A Solution for Quizz Failures.

A little girl, while saying her prayers, petitioned God to make Pittsburgh the capital of Ohio. Her shocked mother asked her why she made such a request.
She answered, "Cause I made it that way on my examination paper and I want it to be right."
